

A black and white photograph capturing a group of individuals in traditional dress, likely participants in a cultural or religious event. They are arranged in a line, facing towards the right side of the frame. Each person is wearing a long, light-colored robe over a dark undergarment, with a sash cinched at the waist. Some individuals have distinct headgear, such as tall, pointed hats or turbans. The setting appears to be an outdoor area with a natural backdrop of trees and foliage visible through the open space between the people. The lighting suggests a bright, possibly sunny day.
